

This is a detailed topographic map of a coastal region, possibly in the Azores. The map shows a bay with a red coastline and a blue river flowing into it. The land is divided into various parcels, some of which are shaded in light green, light blue, and light orange. The map includes labels for 'VILA NOVA', 'TORNER', 'S. MARTINHO', and 'LANDA'. It also features a network of roads, a railway line, and a small airport. The map is oriented with North at the top.
